Executive Mansion, Aug. 24, 7 a. m.—Doctor Bliss reports that the President passed a comfortable night, resting well and sleeping much of the time. His pulse this morning ranged about 100.

OFFICIAL BULLETIN.

Executive Mansion, 8:30 a. m.—The President has passed a very good night, awaking at longer intervals than during several nights past. He continues to take liquid food by the mouth with more relish and in such quantities that the enemata will be suspended for the present. No change has yet been observed in the parotid swelling. The other symptoms are quite as favorable as yesterday. Pulse 100, temperature 98, respiration 17.

Executive Mansion, 12:30 p. m.—The President continues to take liquid food by the mouth as reported in the last bulletin. His temperature has risen slightly since morning. In other respects his condition is about the same. Pulse 104, temperature 99.2, respiration 17.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—The Inter Ocean's Washington special says: The President's condition at noon was no marked change from that of this morning, except that his fever is about a degree higher. He is continuing to gain nourishment and it is hoped is gaining strength.

Washington, Aug. 24.—Dr. Bliss is quoted on the street as having told a friend last night that everything that could be done by human beings had been resorted to by the attending surgeons to scatter the swelling of the President's parotid gland, but it did not appear to yield, and suppuration seemed inevitable. The doctor thought, however, it is said, that the discharge would be comparatively light.

BLAINE TO LOWELL.
Washington, Aug. 24.—According to the opinion of his physicians there is no marked change in the President's condition since last dispatch. At this hour, 1:30 p. m., there is some indication of increased fever, which they say is in part caused by the increase of the heat of the day. He continues to take liquid food, and does not seem troubled by nausea or indigestion.

THE PAROTID GLAND LANCED.

Executive Mansion, 2:15 p. m.—As stated in the official bulletin, sent at 10:30 this morning, the swelling of the President's parotid gland, although not perceptibly changed in appearance since yesterday, seemed a little softer as a more careful examination made later in the day convinced the surgeons that pus had already begun to form, and as the patient's condition was satisfactory it was decided to make the incision immediately after the noon examination. The operation was a comparatively trifling one, and was performed by Dr. Hamilton without the use of anesthetics, local or general, but with anti-septic precautions in the shape of carbolic acid. A spring cut was made just under and to the forward of the right ear, and resulted in the liberation of a small quantity of healthy pus, estimated by Dr. Bliss to be about equivalent in bulk to two medium sized peas. The patient's pulse went to 115 immediately after the operation, but soon began to recede, and in half an hour had fallen to the point at which it stood when the examination was made for the noon bulletin, viz: 104. The patient is now resting quietly and his general condition is in no respect worse than before the incision. It is thought now that there will be no further trouble with the parotid gland. If more pus forms it can readily escape through this opening.

Although the amount secreted up to that time was indeed small, in view of the low and impoverished condition of patient, it was thought unsafe to allow this pus to remain in the gland, and since, if not liberated promptly its character might change and complications become more serious. At the noon consultation it was decided to make the incision soon after the 1:30 p. m. bulletin in the swelling on the right side of the face, below and in front of the ear, and set free the small quantity of healthy pus. The operation was, comparatively speaking, a trifling one, as the incision was not deep and it was therefore thought unnecessary to use anesthetics, either local or general. A spray of carbolic water was thrown upon it as an anti-septic precaution. The patient's pulse became more frequent immediately after the incision was made, and reached the maximum of 115 beats, but soon subsided.

Colonel Rockwell said the talk about delirium is all nonsense, as the President is not delirious, and has not been. He is sometimes a little incoherent for a moment after he wakes and before he fully gets control of his senses, just as anyone would be in his weak and debilitated condition and after seven weeks fever, but at all other times his mind is as clear as yours or mine.

HE WANTS TO GO TO MENTOR.

Washington, Aug. 24.—When the surgeons assembled this morning the President again recurred to the topic so prominent in his mind yesterday and the day before viz: His removal to Mentor. He is insisting on some time being fixed as the surgeons have told him his wound is now causing him little annoyance. He could see no reason why the trip should injure him. Upon being told so long a rail road journey would be imprudent in his condition he determined not to remain in the White House any longer if he could help it and asked if he could go to Fortress Monroe by steamer. The surgeons could only promise him he should be removed at the earliest possible moment it could be safely done.

DR. AGNEW'S ENCOURAGING WORDS.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—A Philadelphia special reporter says: Dr. Agnew today seemed in better spirits than at any time since the unfavorable change in the President's condition, more than a week ago. "The public," he said, "had been led within a day or two to magnify the danger the President was in, and to fear a sudden change for the worse, which the physicians had not looked for. Many public people had hardly realized until now that the President was very badly wounded, and that the injury might at any time have caused his death. It has passed its most aggravated stage, which was inevitably followed by a period of almost complete prostration. It is necessary," said Dr. Agnew, "for a patient so wounded to reach the bottom of the ladder before he begins to ascend it again to the high ground of restored health. That period of complete prostration through which he is passing was complicated by the failure of the stomach, that has been partially restored to strength, and it is now a question of the staying powers of the President and his recuperative force whether he shall advance toward convalescence. There are no indications of malarial fever, which with particular care we have looked out for. That there are no traces of malaria at the White House nor could I find that anyone who ever lived near the Executive Mansion had been afflicted with it in the past. The sick room is very comfortable and healthy; the temperature may be reduced to almost any degree by the refrigerating apparatus, and the chamber where the President lies is by far the most comfortable place I have been in at all."

Are there fears of new complications from the swollen parotid gland? "Dispatches from Washington anticipate another operation. It may be necessary to open an abscess if the inflammation develops in that point, but it can hardly be called an operation. The soreness is from the impoverished condition of the blood, but the danger of present inflammation from that cause has been magnified by unofficial despatches."

It has been stated that the President's mental faculties have at last succumbed to the assault of the wound and failing strength of the system and that his mind has become partially, if not wholly, obscured.

Doctor Agnew replied in effect that he was very weak and emaciated but that his mind was quite as clear as it had ever been. He was the first to know the result of the physicians' examination which precedes every bulletin. He talks very little to attendants, but none in the sick room knows better than he what is going on about him. All he says is rational.

"Is it not true that the physicians know much more than is communicated through the bulletins?" "You may say," concluded Doctor Agnew, "that the case is by no means hopeless. We don't anticipate any sudden change either for worse or for better. Our hopes are based on the recuperative powers of the President and the restored strength of his stomach to bring renewed vigor, and if in the end his improvement is permanent his convalescence will be a very long one."

Doctor Agnew will not return to Washington until Saturday unless summoned by the attending physicians.

WILL THEY MOVE HIM?

Executive Mansion, 10 p. m.—Doctor Bliss sent the following telegram today: Washington, Aug. 24.—Doctor D. Hays Agnew, Philadelphia, Pa.—The subject of the removal of the President from the White House is being considered. We desire your immediate attention. Answer.

Signed,
D. W. BLISS.

Doctor Agnew will be here at 10:30 to-night.

Sixty Chinese students, from Hartford, bound west, passed through Chicago yesterday.

Deadly Duel.

Sherman, Texas, Aug. 24.—News of a most horrible affair in Cook county has been received. Some time since Ben. Blanton, ex-sheriff of Cook county, and a desperate man, met James Todd, who had been a witness against him in a law suit, and abused and insulted him in a most outrageous manner. They separated, each vowing to meet the other for final settlement. The men met to-day and both drew weapons and fired. Todd was shot through the heart and in the breast. The top of Blanton's head was blown off. Both men were lying dead when discovered.

Trans-Oceanic Transpirings.

FINANCIAL.
London, Aug. 24.—The Times says: We are informed the rise in French exchange is likely to be followed by an advance in the Bank of France rate of discount. The bank apparently decided against the renewal of the policy of relaxation adopted last year. A good deal will depend upon the amount of gold withdrawn for shipment to America to-day. Although gold is not coming to London from the continent it is still being purchased there by the Italian syndicate and American operators.

BAD CROP NOTES.

Reports from various parts of the provinces states that heavy rains have done immense damage to the crops. Some cut crops have already begun to sprout. Great apprehensions are felt for the harvest in Ireland. Owing to continuous rains throughout the country corn is much damaged and potatoes are showing signs of extensive disease.

A MILLION FRANCS OF SPECIE.

Havre, Aug. 24.—The steamer Allemania sailed hence with a million francs of specie for New York.

ENGLISH ADDRESSES OF SYMPATHY.

London, Aug. 24.—United States Minister Lowell writes the Times that he has received a dispatch from Secretary Blaine acknowledging the arrival at Washington of numerous addresses of sympathy forwarded by Lowell from various public officers and from other sources in Great Britain in regard to President Garfield. He says there is no way of conveying to corporations and private persons who sent the addresses a recognition of their courtesy by his government. Lowell therefore asks the Times to publish an extract of the dispatch from Blaine stating that the numerous addresses in regard to Mr. Garfield cannot but further and strengthen the affection of the mother country already existing in the hearts of the American people.

SPANISH ELECTIONS.

Madrid, Aug. 24.—The latest returns of the elections for members of the cortes gave the Ministerialists 301 seats, Conservatives 46, Democrats 37, Independents 5 and Ultramontanes 6. Nothing is known of a single Carlist success in the elections.

CHOLERA IN BANGKOK.

London, Aug. 24.—A private letter from Bangkok, Siam, says that Asiatic cholera is raging there. It is variously estimated that from 100 to 300 natives are dying daily. Few foreigners died, but several have fled to Singapore and Hong Kong. Every one feels as though he was living in a graveyard.

RUSSIAN STAFF OFFICERS ARRESTED.

London, Aug. 24.—Lumburg newspapers state that two Russian staff officers, Cols. Prokhopov and Polica, have been arrested at Przemye, Austrian Galicia. They were in civilian dress, and had been all day examining the fortifications of town. They had large sums of money and ways and plans which showed they had previously studied the fortifications of Crocan and strategical points on the routes of railway.

A FRENCH COMPLIMENT.

Paris, Aug. 24.—The Perfect of the Seine informs Morton, United States Minister here, in a letter which was very complimentary to him and American, that Place de Bette, where his official residence was selected, has been named Place de Etats Unis.

A TINY CRAFT'S OCEAN VOYAGE.

London, Aug. 24.—A small sailing boat, Bath Vary, from New York City, arrived at Falmouth.

THE ANTI-JEWISH ROW IN GERMANY.

Berlin, Aug. 24.—Since the Emperor has declared his great dislike to anti-Jewish agitation the conservative press have begun to discuss the question in a calmer spirit, and the authorities have taken all measures necessary to prevent the outbreak of new riots. It would seem that the movement has terminated for the present. The progressive press, which is mostly under the influence of the Jews, is very triumphant. Several Berlin stock exchange papers continue to print very violent articles accusing Bismarck of supporting the anti-Jews. These papers expressed their satisfaction in such an offensive way that the rioters in Pomerania will be severely punished.

Consuming Flames.

RAILWAY SHOPS.
GALVESTON, Aug. 24.—The shops of the Galveston, Harrisburgh and San Antonio Railroad, at Harrisburgh, burned last evening, together with the tools, machinery, three locomotives and one passenger car. Total loss, $200,000. Insured. It is supposed that the fire originated by spontaneous combustion.

A TOWN.

Dangerfield, Texas, Aug. 24.—Nearly all the business part of town burned; loss $25,000.

A FLOURING MILL.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—Frederick Volz's flouring mill and bakery, on Milwaukee avenue, burned this morning. Loss, $25,000; insurance, $22,000. Three firemen were seriously but not fatally burned, and eight horses were burned to death.

Vigorous protests have been entered against the election of M. Gambetta in two districts in the recent French elections.

Washington Warnings.

FIVE PER CENTS. FOR REDEMPTION.
Washington, Aug. 24.—Upwards of two millions of five per cent. registered bonds were received at the Treasury Department for redemption.

CAPTAIN HOWGATE'S FRAUDS.

Colonel Cook, for the Government, this afternoon entered a civil suit against H. W. Howgate to recover $101,257. Writs of attachment were issued and placed in the marshal's hands and his deputies seized all the real and personal property belonging to the defendant. It is stated that the investigation developed that the defendant has unlawfully drawn from the United States Treasurer on checks and appropriated to his own use the sum mentioned. It is believed further investigation will disclose that further large sums were taken by Howgate and that he has with full knowledge of these facts and while the investigation was still going on suddenly left without declaring any business or reason for leaving the District and without indicating how long he would remain or if he ever would return. It is believed Howgate intended to dispose of his real estate in the District so as to defeat the just demands made against him. The checks on which money was unlawfully drawn are on the order of the American Telegraph Company, Western Union Telegraph Company, A. A. McCullough and L. G. Tillotson. The dates run from November 6th, 1878 to September 1st, 1880.

PATENTS ISSUED.

The following patents were issued to Pacific coast inventors this week. Howard Carr, San Francisco, projectile; Barino Goldman, San Francisco, filter; Adam Goldselt, San Francisco, lamp plate and reflector.

To Government Contractors.

Washington, Aug. 24.—Judge Lawrence, First Comptroller of the Treasury, rendered a decision in which he maintains that if a contract with the government is sold by the contracting party the contract itself is annulled, and that any person or party selling such contract runs the risk of obtaining no pay. The opinion is based on the ground that the original contractor in such event does not perform the service, and the purchaser of the contract violates the existing law.

Hancock Compliments Arthur.

Boston, Aug. 24.—In the cars on his way to Portland General Hancock was asked his opinion of General Arthur and with much warmth replied that he was "an able, patriotic and high minded gentleman and in the event of his being called to the chief magistracy would discharge the duties with but one purpose, that of benefiting the entire country and that the people might rely on his judgment with absolute confidence."

Under Ground Rapid Transit.

New York, Aug. 24.—The Commercial Bulletin says the under ground rapid transit road on Manhattan Island, which has been so long talked about, seems at length in a fair way of accomplishment. Vanderbilt and Gould appear to have already secured a franchise and promise are long to have trains running from the battery to Forty-second street.

New York, Aug. 24.—The City of Mexico Official Journal publishes the following: A bank contract, the trustees of which are Antonio Mier y Celoz, Ramon Guzman, Felix Cuenas, Mexicans; G.
